Sponsorship Prospectus

Dear Prospective 2018 Sponsor,

I am writing to invite you to the Society for Glycobiology Annual Meeting in New Orleans, LA, November 5-8, 2018.

Meeting session topics include:

- Glycan biosynthesis and function
- Structural basis for glycan biosynthesis
- Glycoengineering and glyco-synthetic tools
- Glycan synthesis and function in parasites, pathogens, and microbes
- Plant glycans and cell wall biology
- Glycans in developmental model systems
- Glycan-related diseases and disorders I & II

This year our theme is Glycobiology: Glycan function and biology from molecules to organisms.

Glycobiology is truly a multi-disciplinary field that embraces both fundamental and disease-related aspects of development, metabolism, immunology, virology, parasitology, and microbiology. Our focus will be especially target presentations that range from new independent investigators to established leaders in the field and include several investigators from associated fields that are new to our meeting. The overall theme is to draw presentations of cutting edge research that connect glycobiology, structural biology, disease, and therapeutic approaches. These speakers and others will be presenting their work on glycans in cancer, inflammatory diseases, virus and parasite infection, and genetic and developmental disorders, as well as approaches to exploit glycans to treat these diseases and disorders.

It is indeed an exciting time to be involved in research in this rapidly expanding field! It is the goal of my Scientific Committee to convey this excitement during the Society's meeting at the Hilton New Orleans Riverside Hotel for a conference rate of $174 per night.

We especially invite those scientists working in biotechnology companies to join an expected 400 glycoscientists from academia and industry from around the world to present their research. Two poster sessions will be organized and nearly 20 speaker slots are available to be selected from poster abstract submissions.

Join the Society for Glycobiology! Joining the Society will provide a significant discount on meeting registration, a discounted subscription to our journal Glycobiology, membership in FASEB and the opportunity to apply for travel awards for your trainees. Our webpage is www.glycobiology.org where you can find information on the Society and Registration for the meeting.

There will also be two satellite meetings on Monday, November 5 (Tools for Glycoscience and GlycoBioinformatics), followed by the main meeting from the evening of Monday, November 5th to the afternoon of Wednesday November 8th. The banquet will be held in the evening of Wednesday, November 7th and will feature local entertainment. Please join us to make the 2018 Society for Glycobiology Annual Meeting one of the best!

Sincerely,

Kelley W. Moremen, PhD
President of the Society for Glycobiology

Why Sponsor SFG?

We want to work with you in making the 2018 Meeting a mutually rewarding experience for the society, our attendees and our partnering sponsors. There are three key reasons that make sponsoring SFG a good investment for your company:

Recognition: Take advantage of the highly visible way to promote your company to attendees in demonstrating your support for the medical and research community. Exhibiting at the meeting will provide a unique opportunity to showcase your company to this multi-disciplinary group. Exhibits will be located in high traffic areas creating a corridor for the exchange of science and technology.

Networking: Hear what those at the forefront of the field of glycobiology are thinking and doing. You will have the opportunity to engage and interact with all of the meeting participants in an upfront and personal way and to discuss your products and mission.

Support/Assistance: Sponsorship money is used to support students and junior scientists through travel awards and defray travel costs for internationally renowned speakers in the field to come speak at our meeting.

About the Society for Glycobiology (SFG)

The Society for Glycobiology is a non-profit scholarly society devoted to the pursuit of knowledge of glycan structures and functions and to the sharing of this knowledge among scientists worldwide. The objectives of the society are to promote knowledge, encourage research, educate young scientists and to stimulate interpersonal communications, in an inter-disciplinary sense, using as a common meeting ground involving the complex carbohydrates of glycoproteins, glycolipids, glycosaminoglycans, and the biological systems in which they are found.
